COURSE INFORMATION

November 18, 2011- "To Head Off Disease Start at the Top: Oral Systemic Connection"
[6 credits/Cat. I for ME licensure]

Presented by:

Maria Ryan, DDS, PhD, is a tenured full professor in the Department of Oral Biology and Pathology at the School of Dental Medicine at Stony Brook University and a member of the medical staff at University Hospital.

This presentation will summarize the evidence relating periodontal disease to several systemic diseases including diabetes mellitus, atherosclerotic heart disease and stroke, respiratory infections and adverse pregnancy outcomes. Special emphasis will be placed on the management of the diabetic patient. Treatment strategies that can positively impact the periodontal condition in patients with these conditions and potentially improve on systemic health will be discussed based on published studies and case presentations. Special considerations in the dental management of these higher risk patients will be emphasized. The etiology, pathogenesis and medical management of osteoporosis and rheumatoid arthritis will be reviewed. The studies investigating a connection between these systemic disorders and periodontitis will be discussed. The impact of dental and medical therapeutic strategies will be presented.

2011-12 Package Plan Especially for Hygienists

Possible six credit hours of Category I for Maine licensure for each program.

March 30, 2012— Successfully Treating Older Adults: Techniques for the Entire Dental Team
[6 credits/Cat. I for ME licensure]

Presented by:

Randy F. Huffines, DDS is Director of Geriatric Dentistry at the Quillen Medical Center in Johnson City, Tennessee and holds faculty appointments in colleges of dentistry, medicine, nursing, and allied health.

Aging boomers have a different attitude towards dentistry than did their predecessors. They no longer consider tooth loss an inevitable consequence of aging and are willing to "put their money where their mouth is" if the dental team is trained to meet their unique needs. Providing quality dental care for those patients can be very rewarding but also very challenging due to an array of complex dental and medical conditions that become more common as we age. Medications can cause a variety of problems. Visual and/or hearing impairments can lead to misunderstandings between the patients and the dental team. Medical conditions require alteration in "normal" dental treatment to assure a successful outcome. Although most seniors are no longer edentulous, there is still need for esthetic and functional conventional and implant supported prostheses. In this presentation, solutions to common, everyday problems that arise with older patients are clearly explained to give you increased confidence when treating seniors.

April 27, 2012 - How to Have a Hundred Happy Birthdays"

[6 credits/Cat. I for ME licensure]

Presented by:

David Meinz, nutritionist, claims it's not what you eat between Christmas and New Year's that matters, but rather, what you eat between New year's and Christmas! He speaks nationally to businesses and associations and is a frequent guest on radio and television. He is also the author of the audio learning system "Nutrition, Diet & Dentistry Today."

This program shows how to add years to your life and life to your years. You'll discover the Seven Steps to Longevity, the latest on vitamin supplements, and brand new information on cholesterol—that even your doctor doesn't know! A fun and funny program that will show you how to power-up your health in today's fast-paced lifestyle.
