Pre-Convention

CNA Risk Management Seminar
Thursday, June 9, 2016
12:30-5:00 pm
Samoset Resort, Rockport
Registration Form is on the MDA website (medental.org)

Post-Convention

The 3rd Annual Free Day of Care will be held on Sunday, June 12th following the MDA Annual Convention. Volunteers are needed from 9:00 am–2:00 pm. Information will be posted on the MDA website (medental.org) or to volunteer, contact Timothy Oh, DMD - TOh@caringhandsofmaine.org.
Hello MDA members,

Dr. Trowbridge has retired as the director of the Special Smiles program and I have been honored to be asked to take his place. I have been volunteering at this wonderful event since it started and if you have never volunteered, you are missing out.

The dates for the Special Olympics Maine this year are June 10-11th at UMO and the Special Smiles program is on Saturday the 11th. Please be aware that this is the same weekend as the Samoset meeting and every so many years the dates tend to conflict. Weather permitting we will hold the screenings outside on the football field and our tent will be at the end nearest the parking lot under the scoreboard. As always we are seeking volunteers to man the screening tent. We need not only dentists but also hygienists, assistants and anyone else who is interested. The screenings will begin at 9 AM and we generally remain open until about 2 PM in the afternoon. Each year those who do volunteer leave with a tremendous feeling of satisfaction from the time that they have given after seeing how enthusiastically the special olympians compete and how proud they are of their accomplishments.

To those who have volunteered in the past, a heartfelt thank you and to those who have thought about doing it but have not been able to, save the date and join us this year. I urge you all to consider bringing members of your staff to let them all experience the enrichment of spending some time with these incredible special needs athletes. We are fortunate this year also to have volunteer dental students from UNE attending under the direction of Dr. Martinez.

The Special Smiles program would not be possible without the help of our corporate partners. On the national level are Patterson Dental and Colgate Palmolive. Locally we have been very fortunate to have the partnership of Delta Dental and Crest Oral B via Beth Jordan. Beth has arranged, through local promotions, to provide us with battery operated toothbrushes for the athletes. Please thank your representatives from these companies for their ongoing support.

Send me an email if you are interested in helping at lorraineklug@hotmail.com. Please consider volunteering at this very worthwhile event and I thank you in advance.

You hear that phrase every election year, right? “All politics is local,” is a catch phrase that tells candidates for legislative office to focus on local issues.

Now I want you to think of it in the reverse; how can you make them see your local issues. I want you to think of how you can motivate local politicians about issues that are important to dentistry, like the regulation of Dental Hygiene Therapists. You do that by being active and taking part in the LOCAL political process. That means, at the local level you should be meeting and talking with local legislators and letting them know what is important to you, as a local dentist.

In March, all across Maine, the Republican and Democratic parties held caucuses that connected many hometown politicians with their constituents. If you attended, as I am sure many of you did, I hope it whetted your political appetite for the upcoming elections. Yes, I know that some dentists are politically active and some are not. That’s what I want to talk about in this column because it is especially important to be active in the fall elections.

Local political activity by each of you truly affects the Maine legislature and the policies the MDA champions. Your activity will affect and control both your profession and how dentists are treated. Taking part in the legislative process is probably one of the reasons you joined the MDA. But the MDA can’t do it alone, it’s a team effort and as part of the team your job is to elect legislators who agree with MDA positions.

Elections in Maine:
Every two years all the Senators and Representatives who represent you stand for election, and 2016 is election year which means there will be another election cycle this summer. On Nov. 8, 2016 all 186 legislators (35 Senators and 151 Representatives), will be elected, or reelected. The campaigns have already started. When the current session of the legislature is over on April 20th, about 420 Republicans, Democrats, Greens and Independents will be running for all 181 legislative seats. Over the course of the next eight months, they will all be out raising money, campaigning around their districts and appearing on television and radio. They will be attending meetings of local groups, speaking on television news segments and writing to editorial boards of local newspapers about their positions on many subjects.

All those candidates will be looking for your support, and your vote, and you need to be looking for their support in return. That means you have a great chance to decide who is elected and what the next legislature will do, for or about dentistry. It is the best chance for your views about the dental profession to be heard and to elect legislators who will carry your views to the State House.

Be politically active:
It’s good for you and for your profession to be active politically and learn about the issues. For example, the Dental Practice Act is being rewritten right now. Depending on what the current legislature does there may be changes that need to be made by the next legislature starting on January 1 of 2017. The Dental Hygiene Therapist issue will continue to be a hot button in dentistry. It is being debated as I write this column. The pros and cons of community water fluoridation will drive local meetings to add or remove fluoride from public water supplies. Generally, we average two anti-fluoride efforts every year and for many years we have been able to keep local water supplies fluoridated.

How to be active:
You should be on a first name basis with your legislators. It is important to know your senator and representative and for them to know you. How do you do that? If you don’t know them, the quickest and easiest way is to use the Legislature’s website. Type http://legislature.maine.gov/house/townlist.htm into your computer. You can instantly look up the legislative team that represents your town.

Just for practice, go to that page now. On the Townlist page you see the first town is Abbot. Representative Paul Sterns is the House member and Senator Paul Davis is the Senator. If you click on their names, you will get their details. A photo, their addresses, their phone numbers, email addresses, and the legislative committees on which they currently serve.

Now click on the town where you live and where you work. On the House side look at the bills your representative has sponsored. You can see where his or her interests lie. If you scroll around on their web page, you can discover areas of common interest and get an idea of things to talk about to build rapport.

With that information, you can give him or her a call and ask to meet with them, maybe at a local restaurant for coffee and a chat. Then you can offer to be their expert on dental issues in general or specific areas of dentistry in particular. Alternatively, maybe you can invite them to visit your office for an office tour.

In many towns and cities there is a very good chance you have a legislator as one of your patients and you already know them pretty well. They might be from your town or a nearby municipality. If you know them as patients, you probably know how to talk with them as legislators. Use the tour as an opportunity to tell them what you think. There have been many bills concerning dentistry, hygiene, and denturism in the last few years so they will probably be more interested than you think.

Community Leadership:
Remember, dentists are community leaders and as a dentist, you are looked to for leadership. Members of the community see dentists as ethical and truthful. Dentists are always near the top of any survey of the most influential professionals, so as a leader, your views matter to legislators. That’s step one, meet your legislators.

House Parties:
After meeting your legislators, you might think you want to support one of them for office. One way to do that is to have a house party. Invite friends over to your house to meet a legislative candidate. During the course of an hour or two, you serve drinks and snacks, chat about political issues, or non-political issues. During the event give the candidate the floor and let him or her speak to the people you have invited to the party. It’s as simple as that.

There are limits on expenditures in the law. If you have a house party, you cannot spend more than $100 per voter giving the party. The law just requires that you know the amount you can spend under the law and stay below the $100/person. It also means you need to keep receipts of all expenses: things like invitations, food and drink, party favors, or whatever else you spend on the event. The point is you are not raising money for the candidate, you are inviting him or her to a party where they can meet other voters.

There are many ways to host a house party. Give Cindy or me a call at the MDA and we will help you with some ideas. Having a house party for a candidate is a very effective way to support a candidate.

What’s next:
This summer and fall it is important for every dentist in Maine to be in contact with her or his legislators, every one. You need to guide them with your knowledge of dentistry and your local leadership. It is important for you to take part in the election of legislators you can talk with during the next legislative session.

That’s what makes ALL POLITICS LOCAL!

On April 1st, along with four of my classmates from UNE’s College of Dental Medicine, I visited the Maine state capital in Augusta. We started the morning at the MDA where we reviewed what we learned, and had subsequently forgotten, in the 5th grade. We then made our way over to the State House complex. First, we visited a hearing room where we walked through the public hearing and workshop processes for a bill. Personally, my favorite part of the day was when we were able to sit in the House Gallery and on the Senate floor. While there we watched Speaker Eves push legislation through the House, and Senator Thibodeau manage the Senate calendar. Before this experience I never realized how fast the pace in these sessions was! It was so interesting to watch as the pages ran messages all over the room, while different members of the legislature contributed their input on the bills that were being presented. Even outside in the lobby the atmosphere was exciting. We watched as members of the House and Senate met with citizens and others about the events on the calendar for the day’s session. Overall this was more than just a lesson in how the legislature works. It was an exciting experience, led by John Bastey, MDA Director of Governmental Affairs, where we were able to see how groups like the MDA work to protect and enhance our profession and those who have chosen to work in it!
